Dealer Comments

This used 2012 Ford Explorer is an honest daily driver that feels like more than the sum of its miles. Leather seats make every errand a little nicer, and the roof rack means weekend gear comes along without rearranging the trunk. You'll appreciate the tire pressure monitor when the light first comes on and the dual exhaust tips and rear LED lights give the sedan a sharper presence in traffic. A great value buy for someone who wants comfort and sensible style.
