Dealer Comments

2023 Ford F-150 Lightning feels like a truck that already has its act together. With just 17,424 miles, a low mileage for its age, it still drives and smells like the early days. Heated seats warm up fast on a chilly morning, the rear camera makes tight backing painless, and cruise control settles in on long stretches of road. Aluminum wheels give it a finished look while the tire pressure monitor keeps tabs so you don't have to. This used truck is ready when you are.
